Ingold was enchanting in conveying the purity of the coloratura phrases in answer to.. the virtuosically ornamented bird calls...

Donald Rosenberg, The Plain Dealer

She matched trills, runs and birdcall imitations with the soft pastoral sound of...the flute.

Robert Finn, Plain Dealer

Ingold handled elaborate embellishments with skill.

Wilma Salisbury, The Plain Dealer

She shaped the music with fine control, gracefully integrating the ornaments into the vocal line. She has a light but pure-toned voice and an immaculate technique.

Robert Baxter, New Jersey Courier Post

Ingold's pure voice sparkled in coloratura arias, and she brought plenty of personality to her role."

Wilma Salisbury, Cleveland Plain Dealer
